About The Teambuilding Workshop

Corporate retreats and teambuilding adventures can bring your management team or employees together very effectively. Our teambuilding consultants will work with you to design a program to meet your specific goals and budget. These programs can be totally portable, either at your facility or at a location of your choice. We can offer your corporation an exciting alternative to the traditional hotel retreat. Treat your staff or prized clients to a remote fishing trip, send your management team on a customized war game or organize an exciting team building trip by the exotic sea. Whether you are looking for incentive trips, management seminars, team building exercises or sales retreats, we have something to fit your group and your budget.

Our interactive games range from easy/non-physical activities to more advanced physical activities and games. They're all fun and great for relieving stress, and at the same time they help participants improve communication and listening skills, trust, leadership and the ability to work together smoothly

Course Methodology

The workshop will incorporate accelerated adult learning, experiential activities, lecturettes, and group facilitation and discussions. Experiential activities will be designed to allow participants to understand the concepts and skills taught.
